Conclusions

- no basic differences between requirements on ICT and “non-ICT” knowledge and skills for SMEs according to the sector of the economy
- larger requirements on ICT knowledge by small enterprises; on the other hand medium enterprises have higher requirements on “non-ICT” knowledge
- Higher requirements on ICT knowledge for small business units mirror necessity to solve all ICT related problems with lower number of employees.
- higher requirements on “non-ICT” knowledge for medium business units reflect needs of the team work
